HEDEFLER

A multicultural and environmental project with the topic "Think Global, Act Local" and its influence on the humans and physical environment. The communication and the exchange of information will be realized through videoconference and virtual class using interactive communication platforms. This project is based on a Erasmus+ School partnership "Think Global, Act Local". The current project includes partners from Turkey, Germany, Austria, Lithuania and Italy. This year and next years we want to continue with partners from other countries in Europe, to build an educational community with teachers and students. We want to raise the awareness of our students on environmental matters as well as develop them to be active European citizens who protect the world they live in.
